

Recruiting Your Pilot Crew

How to find colleagues to participate in an Everyday Speech Pilot

Not sure where to start?

A successful pilot experience starts with the right people on your team. You'll need to identify 5 or more educators focused on the development of social-emotional and pragmatic language skills.

Are you a specialist?

Consider inviting...

- Other specialists in the same role or department
- Other specialists in different roles who work with the same student cases
- General education teacher partners

Are you a general education teacher?

Consider inviting...

- Other educators in your grade
- Other educators looking to target specific social skills such as self-regulation or emotional recognition
- Colleagues from other schools

Branch out to maximize student impact

When all the professionals in a building come together to try out Everyday Speech, social communication and social-emotional learning gets reinforced at every level of your students' experience, from Tier 1 to Tier 3.

We've got social skills resources for every educator in the building:

 Role	Social Communication Curriculum (SCC)	Social-Emotional Learning (SEL)
Special Education Teacher	✓	✓
General Education Teacher		✓
Speech-language Pathologist	✓	✓
School Counselor	✓	✓
Social Worker	✓	✓
School Psychologist	✓	✓
Behavior Support Specialists	✓	✓

Learn more about our SCC and SEL curricula!

Ready to board?

With the pilot program, you'll receive:

- Complimentary access to our Bundled (SCC + SEL) curricula for the duration of the 8-week pilot
- A planning call to plan the pilot and ensure 100% of your users are enrolled
- Live or on-demand training to support your users
- Support from the Everyday Speech team throughout the pilot

Sign up for your free group pilot